

EXPERIENCE YOU CAN TRUST

WELCOME

QUALIFIED. RELIABLE. COMMITTED.

Forge believes that a safe operation is an efficient and successful operation. History has shown that one minor injury, accident, or undesirable event can cost individual and companies thousands of critical dollars, while one major injury, accident, or undesirable event can absolutely cripple individual lives and businesses. The ripple effect can be tremendous.

That is why we at Forge, believe in employing only qualified professionals who are in line with our core principles. For us, it is not about just a paycheck. There is no integrity or value in that. We believe in developing lasting relationships. We understand that each situation is unique and requires individual attention. We seek to truly understand our client's challenges and needs and customize proactive solutions to address the root cause of those challenges because we want to make a lasting impact.

Through individual and operational behavioral based observation, hazard recognition and identification, tracking, trending, analysis, planning, coaching, mentoring, program management, effective communication, quality assurance, and support from the highest level of our organization, our team of qualified professionals are provided the necessary tools needed to mitigate unsafe conditions and create solutions that effective. Simply put, our goal is to be remembered as the company who actually got it right.

"The past 17 years has proven through radical idealoligy, political unrest, social injustice, and advances in sofistication of narco and human trafficking, that domestic and international threats to our nation, its industry, and its people, are becomming more real each day. Private Security Firms like Forge are being called upon more often to assit in the mitigation of such threats. It is important to ensure that you call upon a company you can trust."
